

MONASH ASIA INSTITUTE BULLETIN

OCTOBER 2015

From the MAI Director's Desk

As the weather warms up, MAI is gearing up for an exciting event schedule for October. MAI will co-organize an international conference with National Taiwan Normal University in Taipei. We plan to regularly co-organize international conferences in Asian cities and this is our first venture. Many prominent scholars will gather there from various parts of Asia, including Australia. We will also have MAI Research Day. This time, we will discuss how to innovatively develop the teaching and research of Asian regions at Monash University. Featuring leading scholars in the field, Mon@sia seminar will discuss Asia literate education in Australia. Of course there will also be regular seminars for Centre for Southeast Asian Studies and Japanese Studies Centre. Please come and share in the discussion!
