Scholars, artists and visitors have been astounded by the rare and often unique treasures that can be found in the drawers and on the shelves at MAMU. This exhibition presents a selection of projects generated by our exciting Australian, Asian, American and European collections and the remarkable Archive items associated with them, and will be launched by Professor Anthony Seeger, eminent ethnomusicologist and music archivist of UCLA.

Professor Seeger will also launch the new MAMU digital collection of early Australian music editions
